Col. Roosevelt has brought suit against George S. Newett, publisher of the Iron Ore, a weekly newspaper printed in Ishpeming, Mich. The suit is based on an article printed in the Iron Ore, Oct. 12, headed "The Roosevelt Way." According to a formal statement this article contained the following paragraph: "Roosevelt lies and curses in a most disgusting way. He gets drunk, too, and that not infrequently, and all his intimates know about it."

Charles D. Dickinson died in Cleveland last week of cancer of the stomach. Deceased was born in Poland Dec. 13, 1848, and when a young man taught district schools and studied law in Columbiana. He was admitted to the bar in 1872 and practiced his profession in Columbiana, Leetonia and Salem. He removed to Cleveland some years ago. He is survived by his second wife. He was a talented man and during his residence in Columbiana and Leetonia was a local correspondent for the Dispatch.

That the railroads of the country expect to "put up to the public" part of the responsibility for accidents was indicated yesterday when the Pennsylvania railroad issued a statement calling attention to the fatalities on its road last year from trespassing. Trespassers to the number of 527, more than one a day, lost their lives last year on the Pennsylvania railroad, while violating the law. Many trespassers are mischief makers; according to the railroad. They smash signal and switch lamps, place obstructions on the tracks and commit many other acts which endanger the lives of railway employees and the traveling public.

While so engaged the animal kicked the boy, who was holding a lantern, and sent him sprawling. The lad's clothing saturated with oil, caught fire and the father had a hard time keeping him from being burned to death. Meantime the barn caught fire and was soon a mass of flames. Two valuable horses, hay, grain, farm implements and 7000 feet of lumber burned. The loss is $2500 with only $800 insurance.

Congressman John J. Whitacre of this district is a thorough believer in progressive legislation that will be for the best interests of the country. He is an able lawyer, a man of wide business experience, and is in close touch with conditions in this district. He knows the needs of the people and his experience of one term in congress has better fitted him to successfully fight their battles. He is no mere chair warmer but knows how to do things and goes about it energetically to do them.

He next Tuesday to give John J. Whitacre a second term in congress. He is needed there.

Vigorous at 104 Years of Age. George Washington Austin of Hartsville, hale and hearty, last Saturday celebrated his 104th birthday anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kent in Kent, where he was tendered a reception by hundreds of citizens. Mr. Austin says he feels as well as when he was 60 and sees no reason why he should not live forever. In mentioning the old gentleman's visit to Kent, the Courier says: "Uncle George Austin had a great treat the other day, when he visited the antique shop of Davis Bros. on Stow street, seeing many things used in his day and now classed as relics. He looked long at the old flintlock guns, 'old U. S. flintlock muskets,' as he termed them, and told of shooting a wild turkey in his younger days with one of these weapons. As he only crippled the turkey, he set his gun down by a tree and chased the gobber a mile and a half before he captured it."

He also saw a familiar old grain sickle, the kind he had used, being an expert reaper in his day, being able to cut an acre of wheat in a day, but he added that one could not play much to accomplish this. He enjoyed looking at the tall clocks and old fashioned dishes and sitting by the open fire place by the wood fire. This reminded him of when he lived in a log house and had a fire place eight feet wide. They used iron andirons instead of brass ones.

After spending two hours most enjoyably with J. H. Davis, he started for home and walked away like a man of 40 years, though he is 104. He is certainly a well preserved man. "May he live to pay me many more such visits," said Mr. Davis.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

The old stockings that used to be used as rats are now employed to increase the bust measurement.

It is hard to wean a woman. Start a crowd down any street after a thief or going to a fire and every woman who has her back to the mob will instinctively grab at the place where her placard used to be. Even when she knows she hasn't one, she imagines it is open and causing all the excitement.

Before he gets her he will tell her that he is not worthy of her, and after they are married she discovers that this was about the only truthful thing he told her.

A woman may lead an aimless life and yet not her husband with the first shot.

One of the funny features of life is when a 29-cent woman sues a 30-cent man for $10,000 for breach of promise.

When a woman asks her husband for $10 and he hands it over without kicking she just knows that he has been doing something he should not have done.

Republican Nominee For State Representative

Endorsed by the Progressive Party.

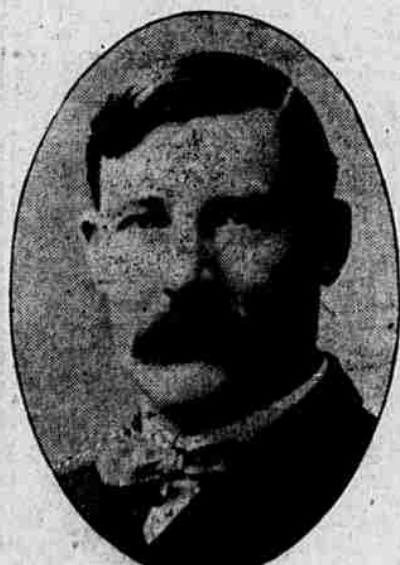

Attorney Oscar E. Diser

On account of the extreme importance of the next session of the General Assembly, the voters of Mahoning County should be extremely careful in the selection of the two members which they are this year entitled to in the lower house. These men should be capable, intelligent and sufficiently informed upon the vital issues which will come before them by virtue of the adoption of the constitutional amendments in the late election as to be able to thoroughly perform their duties.

Attorney Oscar E. Diser, one of the candidates, is a native of Mahoning county, having been born and raised in Springfield township. He attended the Normal College at Canfield, Ohio, Mount Union College, and is also a graduate of Ohio Northern University. Before being admitted to the bar, he was engaged as instructor of different schools in this county and was at one time superintendent of the schools of Springfield township. He has been practicing law in this city for five years, and has been very successful, having gained a reputation as an attorney of energy, fairness and ability. He has been very active in establishing the Y. M. C. A. Law School in this city and is at present one of its instructors.

Mr. Diser is thoroughly in touch with the needs of the city and county at large, and with his experience in legal affairs and his interest in public questions, should especially appeal to the intelligent voter. Irrespective of party affiliation as being the proper man to fill one of these offices. If elected he pledges himself to work for and support such measures as will best carry out the wishes of the voters as expressed in the late constitutional election.

Assured of Re-election To Second Term Nov. 5

John D. Hodge

John D. Hodge seeks re-election as a county commissioner on November 5 on the Republican ticket. Mr. Hodge's excellent character, experience and popularity are such as to practically assure him the re-election which his splendid first term record deserves.

Mr. Hodge is the only candidate of any party for county commissioner who is running for a second term. Consequently he is the only man who can be elected who will be acquainted with the work of the office. Because of that fact it can be easily seen that it would be only common business sense for the voters of Mahoning county to re-elect Mr. Hodge, as the commissioners have general supervision of the business affairs of the county.

For many years a resident of Youngstown Mr. Hodge, through his pleasing personality and his sterling character, has a big following of friends who are determined that he shall be re-elected.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in dose from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN CALIFORNIA CITIES

WIFE IS SLAIN, ANOTHER SHOTS SELF, WHILE ONE MAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—Marital differences is responsible for a triple tragedy in wealthy Oakland and San Francisco families.

Angry because his wife refused to live with him, Frank De Mello, a prominent Oakland realty man, entered the room where Mrs. De Mello was sleeping with her sister and, after kissing her good bye, sent a bullet crashing through her brain. He then stepped into another room and killed himself.

W. P. McComas, a wealthy son of a Mexican mining man, reported to the police that his wife had shot herself at their rooms in the Angeles apartment house. She was found in a dying condition with a bullet through her brain. McComas said he quarreled with his wife on their return from a slumming trip and left the house to go down town. As he entered the elevator he heard a shot but said he thought she had fired a revolver to frighten him. Later he notified the police.

McComas shot a woman in Los Angeles five years ago but was acquitted after a sensational trial. The shooting is being investigated.

EXCEPTIONAL CHILD IS TOPIC

Association for Study of the Handicapped and Defective Opens Conference in New York.

New York, Oct. 30.—The third annual conference of the Association for the Study of Exceptional Children opened here today. The conference is presided over by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, who delivered an interesting opening address in which he outlined the work already accomplished by the association and pointed out the work that is to be pursued during the coming year.

Dr. Claxton said it was not only the feeble-minded and degenerate child that needs special attention in our schools, but the handicapped normal child as well. The significance of the problem, he said, lies in the fact that there are far more exceptional children of this type than there are of the class of real defective and degenerates.

WOMAN GOES BY GAS ROUTE

Great-Granddaughter of Patrick Henry the Revolutionary Orator, Takes Own Life in Boarding House

New York, Oct. 30.—Miss Mary Fontaine Freeland, 50, great-granddaughter of Patrick Henry, the revolutionary orator, and formerly a resident of Vicksburg, Miss., committed suicide by inhaling gas in a room she had occupied for the last three weeks in a boarding house here. A servant smelled gas coming from the room, forced the door open and found the woman lying on the bed with a gas jet in her mouth. She had been dead several hours. Miss Freeland had been a victim of melancholia.

Discharged Clerk Kills Agent.

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 30.—George G. Thompson, division freight agent of the Southern railway, was shot and killed here by W. R. Blair, his private secretary, whom he had dismissed. Blair was arrested in the room with the corpse, crouched in a corner, muttering: "I have killed my best friend!"

You often wonder why so many men go wrong, and why there are always a woman in the case. But when they tempted St. Anthony they didn't offer him money, nor power, nor wine, nor fine raiment. They knew the concentrated essence of temptation, and they left him alone with a beautiful woman.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Plentiful Stocks of Bedding

Good Warm Coverings That Appeal to Keen Judges of Bedding Values

It seems that every season our assortments of Beddings grow larger—that's a natural sequence, for each season our business grows. The present finds us with the broadest showings of Blankets, Comforts, Bed Spreads, Sheets, Pillow Cases and Sheetings to be seen in any Youngstown store.

The present, too, is the logical time for housekeepers to go through their Bedding supplies and fill all the shortages. Jack Frost will "keep us company" for many a day and he's an unwelcome visitor to that home that hasn't provided for his coming.

The woman who goes a-seeking Beddings and comes to this store is relieved of every possible dissatisfaction. All our Beddings are carefully selected and closely scrutinized for perfection of quality and full sizing. There are no better Beddings than ours—more not as good than so excellent—and likewise there can be no greater values.

Choose Beddings From These
